ABOUT THIS COURSE

This Online Nature Enthusiast course is for anyone who have a keen interest in nature but does not necessarily want to become a professional guide.

On this course, you will learn about the essential elements of a functioning natural ecosystem. And the knowledge you gain will bring you one step closer to becoming a guardian of nature.

For 8-weeks, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evening (as per the schedule), our expert instructors will teach you about the wonders of nature. The course examines 16 fascinating natural history subjects delivered in an easy and accessible style, through live online lectures.

Online participants will receive lectures from a diverse range of specialist instructors, which will include;

- In-depth coverage of all modules
- Scheduled Theory reviews.
- Live Q&A with the lecturer and other participants
- Ongoing workbook support

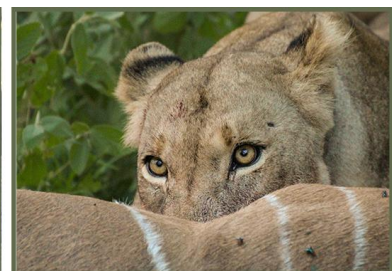

Lectures will range between an hour and two hours, depending on the topic, with a live Q&A to follow each lecture. Workbook support and theory reviews to be scheduled after each lecture.

This course is suitable for those simply wanting to deepen their bush knowledge and skills. Join like-minded people from all over the world for an unforgettable and interactive online course.

ONLINE COURSE DURATION

The course comprises of three weekly (Monday, Wednesday & Friday) live sessions from an expert Instructor covering all 16 modules that form part of the FGASA Nature Enthusiast syllabus - within 8 weeks from the starting date.

A detailed course schedule will be sent to all course participants upon registration.

YOU COULD GRADUATE WITH

1. FGASA Nature Enthusiast certificate (upon successful completion of the Nature Enthusiast Exam)
2. EcoTraining Certificate of Participation on the e-learning course
